TIMELINE OF THE PROJECT
November, December 2022: Application forms and information about the progress of the project.	Assignments for the participants: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• select the project manager• follow the timeline of the project
January, February 2023: Exchanging experiences and knowledge	Educators from participating institutions will be invited to exchange techniques, experiences and knowledge in recording and editing of music videos and also filming and creating music for the videos.
February, March, April 2023: Filming the videos.	Educators will create their own music videos. In doing so, their students will cooperate as much as possible in all phases of production: the selection of ideas and music, preparing sets and acting, recording and editing. It is also desirable to cooperate with students and teachers of regular elementary schools, kindergartens and other similar institutions. Assignments for the participants: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• film a 2-3 minute video,• send the recorded video to the organizer• send the brief summary of filming the video and the video content in English to the organizer.
April, May 2023: Voting and the completion of the project	All videos will be available on the Internet site, where public voting for the best video will take place. Each of the institutions involved in the project will carry out a public event or a web presentation of the festival, as the main goal of the S-Factor project is presenting the videos to the public and spreading the immense capabilities of the children. The voting for the best videos will then take place. The videos will also be evaluated by the jury. Assignments for the participants: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• conducting the voting and selecting the best music videos• send the results of the voting to the organizer• promote the project to the general public.
25th May 2023: Final event with the presenting of awards in Semič.	Final event will be held in KC Semič (Slovenia) and will host participants and participating institutions in the project. The expert jury will announce the best videos. The event will take place simultaneously with the Play With Me Festival.
